Excerpt: .are very apt to breed pride; and when you go again with your petulance, you will find your rosy-lipped girl taking her first studies in dignity. You will stay away, you say-- poor fool, you are feeding on what your disease loves best! You wonder if she is not sighing for your return, and if your name is not running in her thought, and if tears of regret are not moistening those sweet eyes. And wondering thus, you stroll moodily and hopefully toward her father s home; you pass the door once--twice; you loiter under the shade of an old tree, where you have sometimes bid her adieu; your old fondness is struggling with your pride, and has almost made the mastery; but, in the very moment of victory, you see yonder your hated rival, and beside him, looking very gleeful and happy, your perfidious Louise. How quick you throw off the marks of your struggle, and put on the boldest air of boyhood; and what a dexterous handling to your knife, and a wonderful keenness to the edge, as you cut away from the bark of the beech tree all trace of her name! Still there is a little silent relenting, and a few tears at night, and a little tremor of the hand, as you tear oat, the next day, every fly-leaf that bears her name. But, at sight of your rival, looking so jaunty, and in such capital spirits, you put on...
