Original publisher: Washington, DC: Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Acquisition, Technology, and Logistics, 2006-2007 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)156951006 Subject: United States -- Defenses -- Technological innovations. Excerpt: . . . S U M M A R Y I x i whether progress to further mature these technologies lay within DOD or elsewhere. Knowledge of where the action is for a given technology is essential to craft an effective science and technology strategy. Four Critical Capabilities The four Cold War vectors remain important, but have evolved against the demands of todays missions. Speed remains critical, but it is not about just getting there fast, but about adapting, understanding, deciding, and acting. Counter-stealth has supplanted stealth as a critical need, since it is U. S. adversaries who are able to operate hidden underground and hidden in plain sight among civilians. The capabilities needed for such counter-stealth operations are ubiquitous observation, recording, and archiving of difficult target data and being able to rapidly extract useful information hidden in massive clutter. Precision has expanded from hitting what you aim at into tailoring effects to the circumstance, including minimizing counterproductive...
